

SAVE THE DATE

May 24-26, 2016

Superfund Training & Site Visit: Bunker Hill Superfund Site, Coeur d'Alene Basin, Idaho

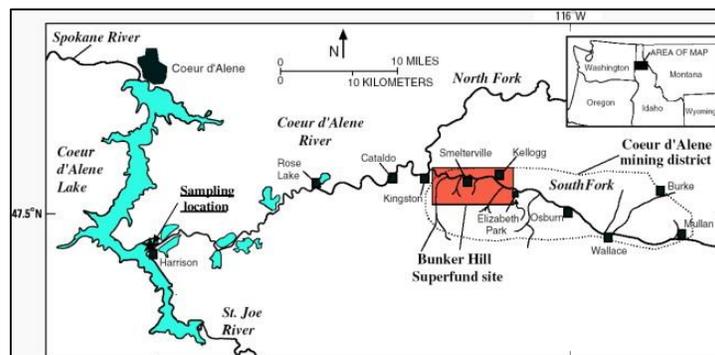

The Institute for Tribal Environmental Professionals is hosting a free three day Superfund Training & Site Visit to the Bunker Hill site. This opportunity is for tribal environmental professional working in Superfund or a related field and will take place in Spokane, Washington. The training will include a day and a half of in-class training as well as a full day field trip to the site hosted by the Coeur d'Alene Tribe. Tribal environmental professionals from both the Coeur d'Alene Tribe and the Spokane tribe will be discussing their involvement with the site and the Superfund process. Travel scholarships will be offered for up to 20 applicants. More details and travel scholarship application will be made available soon.

Photo credit: U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

Photo credit: USGS

Map credit: Greenfield Advisors